Kenosha County golf courses are now open

Kenosha – Kenosha County golfers are being encouraged to get back into the swing of things at Kenosha County’s golf courses.

Dan Drier, the county’s general manager of Golf Operations, said the Petrifying Springs Golf Course, an 18-hole course at 4909 Seventh St., Kenosha, and the White Birch Course, 18-holes at Brighton Dale Links, 830 248th Ave., Kansasville, are now open.

The general hours at the golf courses through April will be 7 a.m. until dusk and will be adjusted as daylight hours increase.

“We have smiling faces ready to serve you,” Drier said. “We are committed to providing a good experience for our golfers.”

Starting Monday, Dave Hassel will begin as the new golf course conditions supervisor for Kenosha County Golf Courses. Hassel’s most recent golf assignment was at Strawberry Creek Golf Course.

“The greens came through the winter in good shape and are ready for play,” Drier said.

The golf courses have thawed out and are ready to play. Some of our membership rates are also lower this year and provide better value, Drier said.

Kenosha County Executive Jim Kreuser said Drier has been working diligently to get the golf courses ready to open while reorganizing the entire operations. Kreuser said the public will be pleased with the results.

“I’m looking forward to getting out on the courses and seeing the results of changes that have been made under Dan’s direction,” Kreuser said.
